

NAME:

RESEARCH PROJECT - What is the physical geography of your ideal location

In this task i want you to have a look at the physical environment of your idea location by comparing it with Port Lincoln and Australia. If your idea location is actually in Australia i would like you to compare it with another country of your choice.

Task one:

- Find a topographic map of your country
- Find a political map of your country
- Find a topographic map of Australia
- Find a political map of Australia
- Write minimum 100 words that compares the two topographic maps
- Compare the sizes of both countries by working out the time it would take to drive the circumference of the country and roughly one side to another.
- Find the population size of the town/city you would like to live in and compare it graphically with Port Lincoln
